Any lingering doubts that may have been entertained with reference to the significa- has been appointed Consul at this port for tion of the milway clause in the new Franco-Chinese treaty must give way before the official report of the Committee of the Chamber of Deputies appointed to examine the treaty. M. Dubost, the Reporter to that Committee, in the report he cead to the Chamber, said :- "This is the first treaty in which China mentions the construction of railways. China understands the prodigious force which these give to modern nations. She does not create for our industry a privilege incompatible with the laws of competition, but she wishes to mark the cordiality of our relations with her." The Reporter is mistaken in supposing that this is the pumping. first treaty with China in which montion is made of railways, for "railroads, telegraphs, and other internal improvements" are mentioned in the American treaty of 1868. But as to the meaning of the clause in the new from that Government=R10,400. He was will be put on an allowance for the future. " Elle n'entend pas créer pour notre industrie un privilège incompatible avec les lois de concurrence, mais elle a voulu marquer la cordialité de nos relations avec elle." If China has not given to French industry a privilege incompatible with the laws of competition it follows that other nations can be in no way prejudiced by the stipulation, for the competition referred to is evidently international competition.

SUPREME COURT. 21st August. IN APPEAL.

BEFORE THE FULL COURT. IN THE MATTER OF WILLIAM BOLTON SPRATT. DECEASED. Mr. Ho Kai, instructed by Mr. Ewens, appeared for the appellants; Mr. Lench, justicuoted y Mesers. Wotton and Deacon, watched the proceedings on behalf of the other side. The appeal was for a rule nisi or a rule abso- to him. late against a decree of Mr. Justice Ackroyd. given in Chambers, while acting as Chief

The case was heard on the 10th instant, when Mr. Ho Kai appealed on behalf of the defendants in the suit brought by Mrs. Spratt against Charles Cairns and Creasy Ewens, that an order made by Mr. Justice Ackroyd on the 13th July 1 should be reversed, and the plaintiff's summous dismissed with costs. The decree made by his Lordship was for the administration of the estate, when it was claimed on behalf of the defundants that the plaintiff assigned her-share ofthe estate to Mr. Eca do Silva for $5,000. The plaintiff's allegation was that the deed of assignment was obtained from her by Mr Eca da Silva by means of misropresentations, and she signed it under the belief that it was a mere power of attorney to him to sell the property for her. Mr. Ho Kai argued in the first instance that the proceedings taken were irregular, and he quoted the provisions of the Code in support of that contention, and that both executors were not served. In the second place he claimed that the decree ought not to have been made. In the first place a matter of that kind ought not to have been disposed of in Chambers, but ought to have been sent into the court for hearing, and in the second place the order for administration should not have been made while the deed of as-signment remained in force, and that the plaintiff should first of all have attacked the deed.

Their Lordships now gave judgment, but owing to the fact that the Chief Justice livered it in an almost inaudible tone

Section 3 of the Code, to which he had made no reference, was sufficient to justify the proceedings taken. Their Lordships, however, granted a rule nisi on two grounds, so that the matter The first ground on which the rule was granted was that both executors were not served with the summons; and the second ground was that the order made in Chambers was an order for ad ministration, while instead of such an order be ed to the court in the ordinary way. The rule nisi was therefore granted, the writ being returnable in four days.

Thereupon, in view of an unsatisfied demand on the part of investors for the Shares, the question has naturally arisen whether the Bank are disposed to issue any more. Here again the policy of the Directors is guided by a wise foresigh and by a determination to broaden as much as be exhibited. Our Shanghai correspondent has possible the basis of what evidently will horoafter frequently called attention to the matter, and in become a very big Bank. Mr. Cargill observes: -We have been asked whether we intend to sell more Shares. We do not feel inclined to go largely into the sale of Shares here to increase our capital. The Germans are the likeliest to get such things, as they are enterprising people, and deserve success. Agents are not charged for catalogues. Even rorking models are sent out free of charge, so that agents get every possible encouragement from German and American manufacturers to push their respective productions. When will our manufacturers become liberal enough to do so? They appear to be liberal enough in some things, but in the matter of getting contracts that will furnish employment for the starving workmen of our great towns they appear to be exceedingly stingy, to say the least. A native official was going about the settlement the other day wanting to buy 2,200 breechloading rifles, "such as those used by the foreign soldiers in Hongkong," i.e., Martini rifles. No one could give him any idea of the price of such things, much less give a sample. Annoyed at this, he went to a German firm, where he found scores of models of every kind of modern arms many. MISSING CANADIAN BONDS. OTTAWA, 19th July. It is believed that the redemption of the Canadian loan of 1860, which has been arranged by Sir Leonard Tilley in England, will bring to light some startling revelations as to the manner in which a large amount of bonds have been fraudulently placed upon the market by dishonest employés. It will be remembered that last year a bond of the 1860 issue for £1,000 was passed in London, England, the bond having been stolen from the Government vaults here by a trusted employé, since dead, who, after forging the signatures of the Government officials authorised to sign, realized upon it. It has now been de world that a large number of these bond: w appeared from the Government's various and there is little doubt they are in circulation and will come in for redemption within the next few months. Notwithstanding the efforts of the Finance Department to conceal the crooked work which has been going on in that department for years back, and which was only checked by the appointment of the present Deputy Minister of Finance, it has leaked out that during the recent investigation a defalcation of $12,000 was discovered in the account of a trusted official. Until recently bonds to the value of over a million dollars, all signed ready for issue, have lain in an old vault to which every officer of the department had access without any check upon him. As the result of the defalcation in the Assistant Receiver-General's office at Halifax last year the Government has now to make good $24,000 to the Bank of Montreal, which had made the advance to the dishonest official. BEGINNING OF RIEL'S TRIAL.

REGINA, 20th July. Riel's trial began to-day. The prisoner being asked to plead, said, after some hesitation: "I have the honour to answer the Court that I am not guilty." Counsel requested an adjournment in order to prepare affidavits setting forth the importance of having cartain witnesses for the defence. Gabriel Damont and Dumas were wanted from Montana and it would take nearly two weeks to bring them. An adjournment was granted until to-morrow. The prisoner was very quiet and wasfrequently prompted by his counsel.

EUROPE. -THE UNSAVORY SCANDAL. LONDON, 19th July.

An old rone writes to the Pall Mall Gazette:-"The evil you have exposed is a warning against proller skating; the evil came with roller skating at the Princess Club. Many of the that the possession of Herat, has become neces, species, on the other we shudder as we hear the rushing wings of the Destroying Angel! mighty voice of the Great Influence which rules the Universe has pronounced our fate; the dread fiat has gone forth, and every mortal man is doomed to die! But, though we cannot prevent, can we postpone death? The question is momentous, even if it concern the prolongation of life but by a single hour, inasmuch as every instinct prompts us to fight the boldest battle we can for this glorious boon of existence. The promptings of instinct are but the spontaneous voices of nature, and it is our duty to obey. But there still remains the question, can death be postponed by a single hour? Yes; for the world works in obedience to certain laws; and a study of these proves that those who have the judgment and the will to buckle on the shield, which 'Medical Journal. &c. nature places ready to their grasp, may ward off life, until, in a ripe old ago, the vital faculties been lately used by dealers having no connection with gradually decay, and the Angel of Pouce glides Baron Liebig, the public are hereby informed that the softly into our presence, leading us, as it were, Liebig Company are the only manufacturers who are in a gentle slumber to the region in the label to offer the article with Baron Liebig's guarantee shadow of the tomb.

There are few among us who have not been or are now to some-extent its victims. Would the reader know if he, too, is under the ban of this frightful scourge? Let him ask himself whether he experiences any of the following symptoms:— There are pains about the chest and sides, and sometimes in the back. The mouth has a bad taste, especially in the morning; and there are feelings of dulness and drowsiness. The appetite is poor, a sort of sticky slime collects about the teeth, there is a feeling as of a heavy load on the stomach, and sometimes a faint, all-gone sensation at the pit of the stomach, which food does not satisfy. INGLISH AND CHINESE DICTIONARY. WITH THE PUNTI AND MANDARIN PRONUNCIATION.

An Angle-Chinese Dictionary, published at the Daily Press Office, Hongkong. this Work stands unrivalled. The typography displays the success of an attempt to make the Chinese and English type correspond in the size of body, thereby effecting a vast economy of space, achieving a clearness not previously attained, and dispensing with those vast margins and vacant spaces which have herotofore characterized Chinese publications. To the illustrate the vast scope of the work following facts are submitted for consideration:— Chalmers' Vocabulary contains about 16,000 at DAYLIGHT, on SUNDAY, the 30th inst. Chinese characters, and Medhurst's English and Chinese Dictionary about 100,000, whilst this work contains more than 50,000 English words, and upwards of 600,000 Chinese characters. Again, despite all the grammars and other elementary works as yet published, the student of this difficult language absolutely requires examples to display the various applications and equivalents of different words which have one general meaning. Of these examples this work contains more than five times as many as any other Dictionary hitherto pub-

For practical purposes the arrangement of the work is so complete, that a reference to its FINE A I German bark pages enables a person who understands English to communicate effectively with natives who WHARF and Tsim-Tsa-Tsui at the following understand nothing but Chinese. A FRENCH PHYSICIAN'S DISCOVERY. · A French physician who seems to forget that civilization is a fight against nature, · contends that groaning and crying are two Rates. grand operations by which nature allays auguish; that those patients who give way to their natural feelings more speedily recover from accidents and operations than those who suppose it unworthy in a man to betray such symptoms of cowardice as either to groan or cry. He tells of a man who reduced his pulse from 126 to 60 in the or RESIDENCES. course of a few hours by giving full vent to his emotion. If people are at all unhappy about anything let them go into their rooms and comfort themselves with a loud boohoo, and they will feel 100 per cent. better afterward. In accordance with this the crying of children should not be too greatly discouraged. What is natural is nearly always useful, and nothing can be more natural than the crying of children when anything occurs to give them either physical or mental pain.
